

LIVING

The finest food and drink for summer picnic perfection

There's nothing quite like a picnic in the great outdoors to make the most of British summer. From groaning hampers to delectable cocktails, look to the likes of Ottolenghi, Fortnum & Mason and The River Cafe to create the al fresco feast of your dreams

By Hope Coke
25 July 2023

Chelsea's D'Ambrosi Deli has fast become a go-to for food aficionados, offering freshly-prepared salads (from glazed carrots with cumin, to sesame noodles with sambal); plus picnic-ready centrepieces like fried chicken with buffalo sauce. Or why not up your sandwich game, courtesy of Miznon's new Pita Picnic Box, with fillings like crisp falafel and the devilish 'deep satisfaction' (beef brisket and cheddar), plus chef Eyal Shani's life-changing hummus for dunking.

10/19

Salads from £5.75, mains from £7.50, dambrosi.co.uk (London only)